HEY, HOW ARE YOU?

An Art Room Update

Hello and welcome to the first newsletter for the Art-Room! I'm Christine, the founder of the Art Room, which began its journey a decade ago and has since flourished beyond my wildest dreams. While I've been dedicated to crafting engaging workshops for schools and community groups, I've rarely had the opportunity to share the many exciting projects I'm involved in. This quarterly newsletter aims to change that by offering you a sneak peek into my ongoing adventures and upcoming projects. This year has been particularly busy, with lots of felt-making and willow-weaving workshops sparking creativity and community spirit. In March, I focused on planting willow dens and tunnels at various schools, many of which participate in the Opal Play initiative—a program I wholeheartedly endorse for its commitment to fostering imaginative play in educational settings.

BARNSELY CREATIVE HEALTH

Additionally, I had the honor of attending the Creative Health Partnership event in Barnsley. This gathering was a fascinating exploration of the link between health, wellbeing, and the creative arts, underscoring the profound impact that creativity can have on our lives. I'm thrilled to share these experiences with you and look forward to many more inspiring projects ahead!

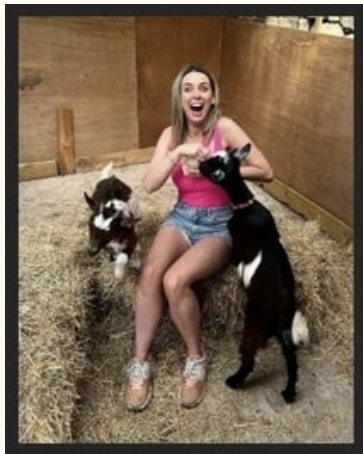

PIC•COLLAGE

Felt Making – Parent & Student Workshop

I ABSOLUTELY LOVED WORKING WITH THIS CLIENT!

In May, I popped over to Fairfield Primary School in Stockton for a unique art extravaganza with not one, but two classes! Parents joined the fun as we dove into the magical world of wet felting, crafting vibrant Egyptian landscapes. With over 60 creative minds buzzing in the hall, the kids and their grown-ups were a joy to collaborate with—pure creative chaos in the best way possible!
